Severe Weather Awareness Week - April 12-18

Last year, Michigan experienced the most damaging severe weather season in Michigan’s history.

According to the National Weather Service (NWS), there was one death and 19 injuries in Michigan from severe weather in 2014 which caused over $2 billion in damages, significantly more than the $277 million in damages the year before.

What you can do to prepare for severe weather:

- Ensure you and your family know your surroundings and risk for specific weather events.
- Have an emergency plan, and know what to do before severe weather strikes. Post your plan in your home where family and friends who visit can see it.
- Identify an appropriate shelter in your home, neighborhood and community ahead of time. Share this with your neighbor.
- Learn how to strengthen your home against severe weather and pass this on at community gatherings.
- Find out from local government emergency management how you will be notified for each kind of disaster and sign up for additional alerts through social media and local news. Understand these local warning systems and signals and share your knowledge with your coworkers and friends.
- Text your loved ones and let them know you are safe and where you are.
